RGI Sustainability Policy

At RGI, we believe a sustainable life is living in the present while providing for the needs of the future.

At the core of a sustainable life lies a common sense approach to understanding that the resources we use today will not be available tomorrow unless we actively protect, renew, and regenerate the supply.

Resources are not only the materials we consume but include the people we work and live with – people that make our business possible. Resources are also defined as the environments we live in – the space inside of our facilities, and the fresh air of the parks and forests we enjoy to nourish and energize our spirits.

RGI, as a business and as a group of individuals, is committed to incorporating a sustainable lifestyle into our personal lives as well as our company. We are also dedicated to helping others understand the importance of how the actions of our neighbor will affect each and every one of us today and in the future.

Living sustainable is a daily action. Therefore, our policy and beliefs precede our actions. We will continually:

- Search for and implement better ways to protect our valuable resources
 - Protect our plant environment from contaminants
 - Provide safe working facilities for the members of our company
 - Use chemicals and other materials that have the least amount of impact on our outside environment
 - Recycle all materials discarded from the production process
- Support others who live a sustainable lifestyle
 - Provide sustainable design alternatives to our clients
 - Provide the most responsibly produced papers and other materials
 - Give preference to vendors and subcontractors that support a sustainable lifestyle

We encourage others to develop and lead a more sustainable life.
